The abolitionist mission isn't done until every prison is empty. When there are no more cops, when the land has been given back, that's when it's over.
I don't expect to live to see that day, necessarily. I mean, hope so. But I smoke.